

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

POLICY — COMPANY FILE

The signed environmental policy — the arrangements that deliver it are KD-HSA-EW-019

KD-PQ-EN-002 Rev A0

The signed environmental policy an assessor asks for. It says what this business commits to. How the commitments are delivered day to day — the waste duty of care from skip to transfer note, fuel and spills, water, noise and dust, and the records — is the arrangement KD-HSA-EW-019, and the site plans are the KD-ENV range: KD-ENV-SW-001 waste, KD-ENV-RR-002 aspects, KD-ENV-SR-006 spills, KD-ENV-IR-007 incidents. ISO 14001:2026 is the recognised framework for an environmental management system; a policy on its own is not such a system, and this one claims no certification. Written for England: the environmental regulator and some of the rules differ in Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland — check the rules where the work is.

2 ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Building work affects the environment — through waste, fuel, water, dust, noise, energy and materials, and through the neighbours who live with it. This business accepts responsibility for its part, and commits to:

- 1 Meet the environmental law that applies to its work, and the other environmental requirements it agrees to such as planning conditions and client rules — including the duty of care for waste in Environmental Protection Act 1990 s.34: waste kept under control, and passed on only to an authorised person with a written description of it.
- 2 Prevent pollution: fuel stored securely and refuelling controlled, spill kits on every site, nothing but clean water to drains, silt and concrete washout contained.
- 3 Produce less waste: order accurately, reuse and segregate before anything goes in a skip, and know where every load went.
- 4 Use energy, water and materials carefully: switch off idle plant, lighting and cabin heating, and choose lower-impact products where the client allows.
- 5 Respect the neighbours: keep to the agreed hours, control dust, noise and vibration, and answer every complaint.
- 6 Protect trees, wildlife and watercourses on and next to our sites, and stop and take advice when something protected is found.
- 7 Make sure the subcontractors and suppliers we bring to site work to this policy.
- 8 Record environmental incidents and complaints, find their causes, set objectives each year, continually improve our environmental performance, and review this policy at least once a year.
